IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MARYLAND
Northern Division

*

TRADEMARK REMODELING, INC.,

*

Plaintiff,

*

v. Case No.: PWG-11-1733

*

GREG RHINES
and *
SHARON RHINES,

*

Defendants.

*

* * * * * * * * * * * * *

MEMORANDUM AND ORDER

This Memorandum and Order addresses Plaintiff Trademark Remodeling, Inc.'s Amended Motion to Modify, Vacate, or in the Alternative, Correct an Arbitration Award,[1] and its accompanying memoranda, ECF Nos. 16, 17, and 18; and Defendants Greg and Sharon Rhines's Response in Opposition to Plaintiff's Amended Motion and its accompanying memorandum, ECF Nos. 24 & 25. Plaintiff did not file a reply and the time for doing so has passed. See D. Md. Loc. R. 105.2.a. This Memorandum and Order also addresses Defendants' Motion to Enforce Award of Arbitrator, which was originally filed in state court and is attached

[1] In a Memorandum and Order dated August 24, 2011, various procedural issues related to Plaintiff's filings were resolved, and Plaintiff was directed to file an Amended Motion to Modify, Correct, or Vacate an Arbitration Award and to properly serve the amended motion on Defendants by United States Marshal. See Aug. 24, 2011 Mem. & Order, ECF No. 11. Plaintiff, complying with this Order, filed its amended motion on September 20, 2011. Service on Defendants was properly performed by United States Marshal on September 23, 2011, and proof of service was filed on November 7, 2011. Pl.'s Process Receipt & Return 1, ECF No. 26.

to this Memorandum and Order as Exhibit A,[2] and the supplemental briefing I permitted the parties to file once I concluded that I would rule on the pending motions from the papers:[3] Defendants' Supplemental Memorandum, ECF No. 47-1; Plaintiff's Response to Defendants' Supplemental Memorandum, ECF No. 48; and Defendants' Reply, which is attached as Exhibit B.[4] Thus, the parties were given a full opportunity to present evidence in support of their arguments. While Plaintiff did elect to file with the Court a limited amount of evidence by way of affidavits and documents,[5] by and large what Plaintiff submitted was an Amended Motion

[2] On March 30, 2012, I issued a Memorandum and Order denying Defendants' Motion to Remand, ECF No. 19. See Mar. 30, 2012 Mem. & Order, ECF No. 40. As a practical matter, that ruling means that "all matters relating to the arbitration agreement between the parties and the subsequent award will be litigated in federal, rather than state, court." Id. at 18. Put differently, in light of my ruling, "both [Defendants'] Motion to Enforce Award of Arbitrator, originally filed in state court, and [Plaintiff's] Amended Motion to Modify, Vacate, or Correct an Arbitration Award," originally filed in federal court, will be resolved in this Court. Id. The resolution of Plaintiff's Amended Motion to Modify, Vacate, or Correct an Arbitration Award will necessarily resolve Defendants' Motion to Enforce Arbitration Award, and vice versa.

[3] As I explained in my June 27, 2012 Letter Order, ECF No. 47, under the Federal Arbitration Act—the statute governing this case—applications to vacate, modify, or correct an arbitration award are to be "made and heard in the manner provided by law for the making and hearing of motions." 9 U.S.C. § 6; see also Switzer v. Credit Acceptance Corp., No. 5:09cv00075, 2010 WL 424573, at *2 (W.D. Va. Jan. 27, 2010) ("[A]ll relief under the FAA must be sought in the form of a motion."). See generally Fed. R. Civ. P. 7(b). By federal and local rule, rulings on motions may be made from the record, without a hearing. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 78(b); Loc. R. 105.6. Where the parties' filings sufficiently brief the issue of whether an arbitration award should be vacated, modified, or corrected, the ruling may, as a general matter, be made on the basis of the record before the court, which includes the parties' briefings and memoranda and the arbitration record. See O.R. Secs., Inc. v. Prof'l Planning Assoc., Inc., 857 F.2d 742, 746 (11th Cir. 1988); Legion Ins. Co. v. Ins. Gen. Agency, Inc., 822 F.2d 541, 542 (5th Cir. 1987).

[4] On May 9, 2012, I granted defense counsel's Motion to Withdraw, ECF No. 42. See May 9, 2012 Marginal Order, ECF No. 44. The Rhines are now proceeding in this action pro se. See May 9, 2012 Ltr. from Clerk of Court to Mr. & Mrs. Rhines, ECF No. 45. Defense counsel prepared Defendants' original Response in Opposition to Plaintiff's Amended Motion. See Defs.' Supp. Mem. 1. The supplemental briefings were prepared by Defendants pro se. See id.

[5] Plaintiff's Amended Motion was not accompanied by any exhibits. As exhibits to its Supplemental Memorandum, Plaintiff attached four affidavits—two containing the testimony of Plaintiff's former counsel, and two containing the testimony of its primary officers. Additionally, four exhibits are letters from Plaintiff's current counsel to Plaintiff, providing a detailed breakdown of her billing to date. See Pl.'s Supp. Mem. Exhibits, ECF Nos. 48-1–48-9.

comprised of sixty-eight largely conclusory assertions unsupported by specific facts. The affidavit submitted by Plaintiff's former attorney does not affirmatively state that it contains facts of which the affiant had personal knowledge; the affidavit also is replete with argument and legal conclusions. The affidavits submitted by Todd Swanson and Eric Swanson, two of Plaintiff's primary officers, similarly fail to state that the facts referenced are based on the affiants' personal knowledge, and contain abundant argument, speculation, and conjecture. The vast majority of what Plaintiff cited in support of its Motion to Modify, Vacate, or Correct was allegation and argument, and very little was of a helpful factual nature.

I. BACKGROUND

In March 2009, the parties entered into a construction contract. Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 6; Defs.' Supp. Mem. ¶ 1; see Agreement to Contract for Remodeling Services ("Construction Contract"), Pl.'s Compl. Ex. 4, in ECF No. 1-2, at 8–20. The contract provided that any disputes among the parties would be submitted to binding arbitration. See Construction Contract 20. A dispute arose, and the parties proceeded to arbitration. See Pl.'s Am. Mem. in Supp. Vacation 3; see also Defs.' Supp. Mem. 1. On March 29, 2011, an arbitrator awarded $83,408.25 to Defendants. Pl.'s Am. Mem. in Supp. Vacation 3; Defs.' Supp. Mem. 1. In May 2012, Defendants (the Rhines) instituted a state court action to enforce the arbitration award. See Defs.' Motion to Enforce 2. In June 2011, Plaintiff (Trademark) instituted the present case in federal court, seeking to vacate, or in the alternative, modify or correct the arbitration award. See Compl., ECF No. 1. Pursuant to my March 30, 2012 Memorandum and Order, which denied Defendants' Motion to Remand, both the Motion to Enforce, originally filed in state court, and Trademark's Amended Motion to Vacate, Modify, or Correct, originally filed in this Court, will be resolved by this Order. See Mar. 30, 2012 Mem. & Order 18, ECF No. 40.

II. DISCUSSION

In the present motion, Plaintiff requests that the Court vacate, modify, or correct the March 29, 2011 arbitration award made in Defendants' favor. A federal court's review of an arbitration award is "'substantially circumscribed.'" Three S Del., Inc. v. DataQuick Info. Sys., Inc., 492 F.3d 520, 527 (4th Cir. 2007) (quoting Patten v. Signator Ins. Agency, Inc., 441 F.3d 230, 234 (4th Cir. 2006)). Indeed, "the scope of judicial review for an arbitrator's decision 'is among the narrowest known at law because to allow full scrutiny of such awards would frustrate the purpose of having arbitration at all—the quick resolution of disputes and the avoidance of the expense and delay associated with litigation.'" DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 527 (quoting Apex Plumbing Supply, Inc. v. U.S. Supply Co., Inc., 142 F.3d 188, 193 (4th Cir. 1998)); see Remmey v. PaineWebber, Inc., 32 F.3d 143, 146 (4th Cir. 1994) ("Opening up arbitral awards to myriad legal challenges would eventually reduce arbitral proceedings to the status of preliminary hearings. Parties would cease to utilize a process that no longer had finality. To avoid this result, courts have resisted temptations to redo arbitral decisions."). Thus, in reviewing arbitration awards, federal courts are "'limited to determine whether the arbitrators did the job they were told to do—not whether they did it well, correctly, or reasonably, but simply whether they did it.'" DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 527 (quoting Remmey, 32 F.3d at 146); see also Remmey, 32 F.3d at 146 ("Courts are not free to overturn an arbitral result because they would have reached a different conclusion [on] the same facts.").

The Federal Arbitration Act, 9 U.S.C. §§ 1–16, narrowly states the grounds on which a court may vacate, modify, or correct an arbitration award. See 9 U.S.C. § 10 (vacation); 9 U.S.C. § 11 (modification or correction). A court may vacate, modify, or correct an arbitration award only when the moving party has established one of the grounds listed in the statute or one of the limited grounds recognized at common law. See DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 527; Switzer v. Credit Acceptance Corp., No. 5:09cv00075, 2010 WL 424573, at *2 (W.D. Va. Jan. 27, 2010). The moving party must make this showing with specific facts; "bald faced allegations" are not sufficient. See Colonna v. Hanners, No. 08:10-CV-1899-AW, 2011 WL 2175248, at *4 (D. Md. June 1, 2011); see also Consolidated Coal Co. v. Local 1643, United Mine Workers of Am., 48 F.3d 125, 129 (4th Cir. 1995) (stating that a showing of certain grounds must be "'direct, definite, and capable of demonstration rather than remote, uncertain or speculative'" (quoting Peoples Sec. Life Ins. Co. v. Monumental Life Ins. Co., 991 F.2d 141, 146 (4th Cir. 1993))). Below, I consider the statutory and common law grounds for vacation and modification/correction, and the parties' corresponding arguments, ruling separately as to each.

A. Vacation

A party seeking to vacate an arbitration award "must sustain the heavy burden of showing one of the grounds specified in the Federal Arbitration Act or one of certain limited common law grounds." DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 527 (citing Patten, 441 F.3d at 234). The Federal Arbitration Act provides four instances where vacation is permitted: (1) "where the award was procured by corruption, fraud, or undue means"; (2) "where there was evident partiality or corruption in the arbitrators, or either of them"; (3) "where the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct in refusing to postpone the hearing, upon sufficient cause shown, or in refusing to hear evidence pertinent and material to the controversy; or of any other misbehaviour by which the rights of any party has been prejudiced"; or (4) "where the arbitrators exceeded their powers, or so imperfectly executed them that a mutual, final, and definite award upon the subject matter submitted was not made." 9 U.S.C. § 10(a). Additionally, the Fourth Circuit has noted two common law grounds for vacation: (1) "where an award fails to draw its essence from the contract"; and (2) where "the award evidences a manifest disregard of the law." DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 527 (citing Patten, 441 F.3d at 234) (internal quotation marks omitted).

1. Corruption, Fraud, or Undue Means

An award may be vacated if it was "procured by corruption, fraud, or undue means." 9 U.S.C. § 10(a)(1). The phrase "undue means" has "generally been interpreted to mean something like fraud or corruption." DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 529; see also Nat'l Cas. Co. v. First State Ins. Grp., 430 F.3d 492, 499 (1st Cir. 2005) ("The best reading of the term 'undue means' . . . is that it describes underhanded or conniving ways of procuring an award that are similar to corruption or fraud but do not precisely constitute either."). To prevail under § 10(a)(1), the moving party must show that "the corruption, fraud, or undue means was 'not discoverable upon the exercise of due diligence prior to the arbitration' or during the arbitration, and that the corruption, fraud, or undue means 'materially related to an issue in the arbitration.'" Belmont Partners, LLC v. Mina Mar Grp., Inc., 741 F. Supp. 2d 743, 749 (W.D. Va. 2010) (quoting MCI Constructors, LLC v. City of Greensboro, 610 F.3d 849, 858 (4th Cir. 2010)). Additionally, the moving party must establish corruption, fraud, or undue means by clear and convincing evidence. Id. (citing MCI Constructors, 610 F.3d at 858).

Plaintiff alleges that the arbitrator's award should be vacated under § 10(a)(1) for several reasons. First, Plaintiff alleges that Defendants presented at the arbitration hearing "confidential personal accounting information" of Plaintiff's principal, "in violation of professional standards of accounting and in breach of confidentiality." Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 29. This evidence subsequently was "withdrawn by Defendants and/or the arbitrator after submission." Id. ¶ 30. Nonetheless, Plaintiff maintains that the submission of this information "by undue means . . . created an atmospher[e] which tainted" Plaintiff's defense. Id. Defendants do not specifically respond to Plaintiff's argument, except to assert that Plaintiff has presented no evidence of actual corruption, fraud, or undue means. See Defs.' Mem. in Opp'n 4; Defs.' Supp. Mem. 6. Plaintiff's argument is without merit. No court "has ever suggested that the term 'undue means' should be interpreted to apply to actions of counsel that [may be] merely legally objectionable," MCI Constructors, 610 F.3d at 858, such as the presentation of confidential information. Moreover, Plaintiff has presented no evidence that the presentation of the allegedly confidential information in any way "materially related to an issue in the arbitration," or that it "actually factored into the [arbitrator's] liability determination." *See id.*at 858–59. Nor could they, because they acknowledge that the allegedly confidential information was withdrawn by Defendant and the arbitrator after it was submitted. See Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 30. Consequently, this argument does not present a basis for vacating the arbitration award.

Second, Plaintiff raises concerns relating to a $250.00 gift card allegedly given by Defendants to a former employee of Plaintiff, in exchange for his signing off on a "Punch List" of construction projects on the employee's last day of employment. See Am. Pl.'s Mot. ¶¶ 32–38. The former employee subsequently testified at the arbitration hearing by telephone. See id. ¶ 39. Plaintiff argues that the employee testified in exchange for the $250.00 gift card and that his testimony therefore was "submitted by undue means" in violation of § 10(a)(1). Id. ¶ 40. Plaintiff's factual contentions do not indicate that the employee's testimony was made in exchange for the gift card. Rather, Plaintiff states only that the employee received the gift card from Defendants after signing the Punch List. See id. ¶ 34. Defendants deny that they gave Plaintiff's former employee a $250.00 gift card as an inducement to testify favorably at the arbitration. See Defs.' Supp. Mem. ¶ 12. Rather, Defendants admit that they gave the employee a $150.00 gift card on the last day of his employment as a "thank you" for doing a good job as the project manager of their remodeling contract. See id. More importantly, however, Defendants contend that the fact of their giving the gift card to Plaintiff's former employee was disclosed during the arbitration, and that Plaintiff's counsel cross-examined the witness about receiving the gift card. See id. Plaintiff does not deny that it was aware of these events during the arbitration, see John S. Weisse Aff. ¶ 15, Pl.'s Supp. Mem. Ex. 9, ECF No. 48-9, nor does it contend that it was unable to argue to the arbitrator that the former employee's testimony was biased as a result of having received a gift card from Defendants. Thus, Plaintiff had an opportunity to address the credibility of the former employee during the arbitration, and the fact that the arbitrator may have credited Defendants' explanation regarding the nature of the gift card over Plaintiff's explanation is not a basis for vacating the arbitration award.

Finally, Plaintiff claims that the arbitrator's method of conducting the arbitration hearing violated § 10(a)(1). See Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 42. Specifically, Plaintiff states that the award was "procured by corruption, fraud, or undue means" because: (1) the arbitrator allowed witnesses under subpoena to testify by telephone,[6] id. ¶¶ 39 & 42; (2) the arbitrator allotted less than one

[6] Plaintiff also alleges that the arbitrator's decision to permit the witness to testify by telephone violated its Fifth Amendment due process right to "adequately and fully cross examine the witness." See Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 41. Plaintiff's argument is made without citation to any legal authority. Courts have long emphasized that "the right to confront and cross-examine witnesses is a fundamental aspect of procedural due process." Jenkins v. McKeithen, 395 U.S. 411, 428 (1969). However, a "'mere allegation of a due process violation' is not a colorable constitutional claim." Klemm v. Astrue, 543 F.3d 1139, 1144 (9th Cir. 2008) (quoting Anderson v. Babbitt, 230 F.3d 1158, 1163 (9th Cir. 2000)). Instead, "the claim must be supported by 'facts sufficient to state a violation of substantive or procedural due process.'" Id. (quoting Anderson, 230 F.3d at 1163). Here, Plaintiff has "advanced no colorable basis for finding a procedural due process violation." See id. Plaintiff has not alleged that the arbitrator's decision to permit telephonic testimony "denied [it] the opportunity to prove [its] claim," see id., nor has Plaintiff explained in any detail why it was unable to "adequately and fully cross examine the witness" by telephone. Rather, Plaintiff states, in conclusory fashion and without legal citation, that the use of telephonic testimony violates its due process rights. See Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 41. This is not enough. See Klemm, 543 F.3d at 1144; cf. Gedatus v. RBC Dain Rauscher, Inc., No. 07-1750, 2008 WL 216297, at *4 (D. Minn. Jan. 23, 2008) ("Petitioner has not presented the Court any third of the hearing time to Plaintiff's case, id. ¶¶ 31 & 42; and (3) the arbitrator permitted Defendants to present a detailed itemization of damages for the first time in their closing arguments, id. ¶¶ 14–20, 42. Plaintiff has not established by clear and convincing evidence that any of these actions amount to corruption, fraud, or undue means. See MCI Constructors, 610 F.3d at 858 (explaining that counsel's decision "to present its principal arguments on rebuttal, thereby robbing [opposing counsel] of its opportunity to present a meaningful response at closing" does not qualify as "undue means"); see also A.G. Edwards & Sons, Inc. v. McCollough, 967 F.2d 1401, 1403–04 (9th Cir. 1992) (holding that the term "undue means" does not apply to "sloppy or overzealous lawyering"). Vacation is permissible "only where the award was procured by corruption, fraud, or undue means." Forsythe, 915 F.2d at 1022 (emphasis in original). Plaintiff has failed to establish that the arbitrator's decisions with regard to the conduct of the hearing—appearance by remote means, timing of presentations—amounted to procurement of the arbitration by corruption, fraud, or undue means. See id.

2. Evident Partiality or Arbitrator Corruption

An arbitration award may be vacated if "there was evident partiality or corruption in the arbitrators." 9 U.S.C. § 10(a)(2). To establish partiality under § 10(a)(2), the moving party must "demonstrate that a reasonable person would have to conclude that an arbitrator was partial to the other party to the arbitration." ANR Coal Co., Inc. v. Cogentrix of N.C., Inc., 173 F.3d 493, 500 (4th Cir. 1999); see also Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC v. Watts, No. 5:11cv48, 2012 WL 831878, at *4 (W.D.N.C. Mar. 12, 2012) ("The party seeking vacatur must point to evidence of an actual conflict of interest or identify a business or other connection that might create a authority supporting his position that he was entitled to . . . live testimony at his arbitration hearing. Further, he has not demonstrated that he was prejudiced by the presentation of testimony by telephone . . . . In fact, other courts have rejected similar challenges.").

---

reasonable impression of possible bias that the arbitrator failed to disclose."). In making this determination, the court should consider four factors: (1) "the extent and character of the personal interest, pecuniary or otherwise, of the arbitrator in the proceedings"; (2) "the directness of the relationship between the arbitrator and the party he is alleged to favor"; (3) "the connection of that relationship to the arbitrator"; and (4) "the proximity in time between the relationship and the arbitration proceeding." ANR Coal, 173 F.3d at 500. The alleged bias must be "direct, definite[,] and capable of demonstration rather than remote, uncertain[,] or speculative." See id. Plaintiff has provided no evidence indicating that the arbitrator was partial to any party, nor has it identified evidence of an actual conflict of interest.[7] Accordingly, § 10(a)(2) does not provide a basis for vacating the arbitration award in this case.

3. Misbehaviour of the Arbitrator Resulting in Prejudice

A court may vacate an arbitration award "where the arbitrators were guilty of misconduct" or other "misbehaviour by which the rights of any party [were] prejudiced." 9 U.S.C. § 10(a)(3). Under § 10(a)(3), "an arbitrator commits misconduct if he refuses 'to hear evidence pertinent and material to the controversy,'" or if he refuses "to postpone the hearing, upon sufficient cause shown." DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 530 (quoting 9 U.S.C. § 10(a)(3)). Plaintiff does not allege that the arbitrator refused to hear pertinent evidence, or that the arbitrator refused to postpone the hearing. See Defs.' Mem. in Opp'n 5. Rather, Plaintiff argues that the general conduct of the hearing—permitting a witness to testify by telephone, the timing of the presentation of evidence, and permitting evidence to be introduced for the first in closing argument—constitutes misbehaviour, and that such conduct resulted in prejudice to Plaintiff. See Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶¶ 42 & 44. I note, preliminarily, that "arbitrators have broad discretion to set applicable procedure" in an arbitration hearing. Wachovia Secs., LLC v. Brand, 671 F.3d 472, 480 (4th Cir. 2012). Moreover, a showing of prejudice is "a precondition to vacating an award pursuant to § 10(a)(3)." Al-Haddad Commodities Corp. v. Toepfer Int'l Asia Pte., Ltd., 485 F. Supp. 2d 677, 686 (E.D. Va. 2007). Put differently, a federal court is entitled to vacate an arbitration award only if the arbitrator's [conduct] deprives a party to the proceeding of a fundamentally fair hearing." DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 530. "Aside from conclusory statements," Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate how the arbitrator's conduct at the hearing "rendered the arbitration fundamentally unfair." See Cowle v. Dain Rauscher Inc., 66 Fed. App'x 525, 525 (5th Cir. 2003); cf. Colonna, 2011 WL 2175248, at *4 (stating that "bald faced allegations" are insufficient). A party is not denied a fundamentally fair hearing simply because the arbitrator rules in the opposing party's favor.[8] See Cowle, 66 Fed. App'x at 525 ("Arbitrators are not guilty of misconduct . . . merely because they rule in the other party's favor.").

[7] Without more, the fact that the arbitrator: (1) permitted one of Defendants' witnesses to testify by telephone; (2) controlled the timing of the presentation of evidence so that Plaintiff was given less time than Defendants; and (3) permitted Defendants to introduce certain evidence for the first time in their closing argument, does not demonstrate partiality toward Defendants. See Watts, 2012 WL 831878, at *4 (requiring the moving party to identify "an actual conflict of interest" or "business or other connection that might create a reasonable impression of possible bias"); see also ANR Coal, 173 F.3d at 500 (stating that the alleged bias must be "direct, definite[,] and [demonstrable] rather than remote, uncertain[,] or speculative"). The mere fact that the arbitrator ruled against Plaintiff on a number of issues does not constitute partiality, and therefore is not a basis for vacating the award. See DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 530.

[8] I note that limiting the parties' presentation times is not misconduct so long as the parties are given "an adequate opportunity to present [their] evidence and argument." Forsythe Int'l, S.A. v. Gibbs Oil Co. of Tx., 915 F.2d 1017, 1023 (5th Cir. 1990) ("The arbitrator is not bound to hear all of the evidence tendered by the parties, [and error will be found only if the decision not to hear evidence] so affects the rights of a party that it may be said that [it] was deprived of a fair hearing."); accord Int'l Union, United Mine Workers v. Marrowbone Dev. Co., 232 F.3d 383, 389 (4th Cir. 2000) ("An arbitrator typically retains broad discretion over procedural matters and does not have to hear every piece of evidence that the parties wish to present."). Plaintiff has not demonstrated that it was denied an adequate opportunity to present its evidence and argument; rather, it has shown only that Defendants were given more. Moreover, the fact that the arbitrator permitted a witness to testify by telephone does not establish misconduct. See Al-Haddad Commodities Corp. v. Toepfer Int'l Asia Pte., Ltd., 485 F. Supp. 2d 677, 686 (E.D. Va. 2007) (finding that, although "cross-examination in person or by video would have been preferable to

4. Failure to Make a Mutual, Final, and Definite Award

An arbitration award may be vacated if "the arbitrators exceeded their powers, or so imperfectly executed them that a mutual, final, and definite award upon the subject matter submitted was not made." 9 U.S.C. § 10(a)(4). The arbitration award at issue in the present case, dated March 29, 2011, references the parties' March 25, 2009 construction contract. See Award of Arbitrator, Pl.'s Compl. Ex. 1, in ECF No. 1-2, at 1–3. According to Plaintiff, the reference to the March 25, 2009 construction contract "demonstrated that [the arbitrator] found the parties bound to the terms of their contract duly executed, on that day." Pl.'s Am. Mem. in Supp. Vacation 5. However, Plaintiff argues, the arbitrator "based all of his [award] figures on a damages sheet . . . and other extemporaneous submissions which terms were not included in the [March 25, 2009] contract." Id. at 5–6; see also, e.g., id. at 4 (stating that the arbitrator also awarded damages "based upon an unsigned proposal from August 2009"). Consequently, Plaintiff maintains that the arbitrator awarded damages for items not included in or outside of the scope of the March 25, 2009 contract. See Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶¶ 21–22; see also id. ¶ 23 (stating that the arbitrator awarded damages for a retaining wall and resulting flood damage that were not part of the March 25, 2009 contract). Additionally, Plaintiff argues that the arbitrator awarded credits "based upon signed waivers," see Pl.'s Am. Mem. in Supp. Vacation 6; Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 25 (asserting that "pool repairs were awarded by the arbitrator, even though a signed waiver for cross-examination by telephone, the fact that telephonic testimony was ultimately used did not render the proceedings fundamentally unfair" under § 10(a)(3)). Indeed, the American Arbitration Association's Construction Industry Arbitration Rules, which apply to this case pursuant to the parties' March 25, 2009 contract, see Construction Contract 20, provide that an arbitrator may "allow for the presentation of evidence by alternative means including video conferencing, internet communication, telephone conferences and means other than an in-person presentation," so long as these means "still afford a full opportunity for all parties to present any evidence that the arbitrator deems material and relevant to the resolution of the dispute" and so long as witnesses may be examined by that means. See. Am. Arbitration Ass'n Indus. Arbitration Rules, R. 32(b), full text of arbitration rules available at http://www.adr.org/aaa.

---

the pool repairs" was presented at the hearing), for "items that were performed and not paid for," see Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶¶ 21 & 26, and that were "inconsistent" and included "outrageous repair costs," id. ¶ 27. Finally, Plaintiff argues that the arbitrator entered an award that violates the "four corners doctrine" and the Statute of Frauds. Pl.'s Am. Mem. in Supp. Vacation 6; Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 47. For these reasons, Plaintiff states, the arbitrator exceeded his powers or "so imperfectly executed them that a mutual, final, and definite award upon the subject matter submitted was not made." See Pl.'s Am. Mem. in Supp. Vacation 5–6.

Defendants argue, in response, that the fact that Plaintiff "now disagrees with the arbitrator's Award and the itemized calculations therein after a full hearing and submission of evidence by all parties, all of whom were represented by counsel, does not constitute grounds to vacate the Award under section 10(a)(4)." Def.'s Mem. in Supp. Defs.' Opp'n 5. According to Defendants, Plaintiff fails to "explain how the arbitrator allegedly exceeded his powers or imperfectly executed them other than to just state [its] disagreement with the arbitrator's findings" and to "broadly characterize some of the damages as 'outrageous repair costs.'" Id. at 5–6; see also Defs.' Supp. Mem. 6 ("While Plaintiff is certainly within [its] right[s] to disagree with the arbitration award, no evidence has been provided to prove that the arbitrator has exceeded or imperfectly executed his power during the arbitration process.").

A genuine dispute exists between the parties as to whether the March 25, 2009 contract embodies the full scope of their agreement, and whether, consequently, the arbitrator's reference to other evidence beyond the contract was appropriate. When considering whether an award should be vacated under § 10(a)(4), "'[t]he question . . . is whether the arbitrators had the power, based on the parties' submissions or the arbitration agreement, to reach a certain issue, not whether the arbitrators correctly decided that issue.'" Am. Ins. Managers, Inc. v. Guarantee Ins.

Co., No. 1:07-CV-1615-MBS, 2011 WL 1162374, at *7 (D.S.C. Mar. 29, 2011) (quoting Stolt-Nielsen S.A. v. AnimalFeeds Int'l Corp., 130 S. Ct. 1758, 1780 (2010)). The scope of the Court's authority in this context is "exceedingly narrow." Central W. Va. Energy, Inc. v. Bayer Cropscience LP, 645 F.3d 267, 276 (4th Cir. 2011). Indeed, "'if an arbitrator is even arguably construing or applying the contract and acting within the scope of his authority, the fact that a court is convinced he committed serious error does not suffice to overturn his decision.'" Id. (quoting Major League Baseball Players Ass'n v. Garvey, 532 U.S. 504, 509 (2001)). The only requirement is that the arbitrator's decision be "'rationally inferable from the contract'" or the parties' submissions to the arbitrator. Id. (quoting Qorvis Commc'ns, LLC v. Wilson, 549 F.3d 303, 312 (4th Cir. 2008)). Under the parties' March 25, 2009 contract, the existence and legitimacy of which neither party disputes, the arbitrator was given the authority to resolve any disputes between the client (Defendants) and the contractor (Plaintiff). See Construction Contract 20 ("In the event of a dispute between the Client(s) and the Contractor, both parties agree to submit the issue to binding arbitration."). While the arbitration provision does not limit the type of disputes that the arbitrator may handle, the provision, when read in light of the contract as a whole, is limited to only those disputes related to the work Plaintiff performed on Defendants' property. The provision does not, however, explicitly limit the arbitrator's authority to disputes about interpretation of the March 25, 2009 contract, and therefore, I find that the arbitrator did not exceed his powers or imperfectly execute them by considering evidence extrinsic to that contract. See Am. Ins. Managers, 2011 WL 1162374, at *7. Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate that the arbitrator exceeded his authority in determining that the parties entered into other enforceable agreements beyond the March 25, 2009 contract, nor do I find that he exceeded his authority by electing to award damages based on those additional agreements.

Plaintiff also asserts that the arbitrator awarded credits to Defendants: (1) inconsistently; (2) based on signed waivers; (3) for items that were performed but not paid for; and (4) that included outrageous repair costs. See Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶¶ 25–27. Because the parties chose to have the arbitrator issue his award in standard form, rather than as a "Reasoned Award" or a "Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law," see Defs.' Mem. in Opp'n 4; Am. Arbitration Ass'n, Report of Preliminary Hearing & Scheduling Order, Defs.' Mem. in Opp'n Ex. 2, in ECF No. 25-1, at 6–8, the arbitration award itself contains little information regarding the arbitrator's decisionmaking process. "It is well settled that arbitrators are not required to disclose the basis upon which their awards are made and courts will not look behind a lump sum award in an attempt to analyze their reasoning process," unless "they believe that the arbitrators rendered it in 'manifest disregard' of the law or unless the facts of the case fail to support it." MCI Constructors, 610 F.3d at 862–63 (citing United Steelworkers of Am. V. Enter. Wheel & Car Corp., 363 U.S. 593, 598 (1960)); In re Arbitration No. AAA13-161-0511-85 Under Grain Arbitration Rules, 867 F.2d 130, 135 (2d Cir. 1989). Plaintiff has presented the Court with no specific facts that support additional inquiry into the arbitrator's reasoning process. Without additional evidence from Plaintiff, the moving party, the mere fact that the arbitrator ruled in Defendants' favor is not a basis to vacate the award. See Cowle, 66 Fed. App'x at 525.

Moreover, no evidence in the record demonstrates that the Court should vacate the award because it was "so imperfectly executed that a mutual, final, and definitive award . . . was not made." See 9 U.S.C. § 10(a)(4). An award should be vacated as not final or definitive "only when the arbitrator either failed to resolve an issue presented to him or issued an award that was so unclear and ambiguous that the reviewing court could not engage in meaningful review." Int'l Longshoremen's Ass'n, Local No. 1624 v. Hampton Rds. Shipping, No. 94-1838, 1995 WL

19321, at *6 (4th Cir. Jan. 19, 1995). There is no evidence that the arbitrator failed to consider an issue put before him, nor do I find that the arbitrator's award is unclear or ambiguous. Indeed, the arbitrator's award "could hardly be more final and definite." See Remmey, 32 F.3d at 150; see also Award of Arbitrator 3 ("Accordingly, I award as follows; Respondent shall pay to Claimants the net sum of [$83,408.25]. Payment shall be made within 30 days from the date of this award. . . . This award is in full settlement of all claims and counterclaims submitted to this arbitration. All claims not expressly granted herein are hereby denied."). Accordingly, § 10(a)(4) does not provide a basis for vacating the arbitrator's award.

5. Award Fails to Draw Essence from Contract

In addition to the statutory grounds for vacation stated in the Federal Arbitration Act, the Fourth Circuit recognizes two additional common law grounds. The first is "where an award fails to draw its essence from the contract." DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 527 (citing Patten, 441 F.3d at 234). An arbitrator's award fails to draw its essence from the contract where the arbitrator "'fails to discuss, in his decision, critical contract terminology, which might reasonably require the opposite result,'" MCI Constructors, 610 F.3d at 861 (quoting Clinchfield Coal Co. v. District 28, United Mine Workers of Am., 720 F.2d 1365 (4th Cir. 1983)), or where the arbitrator "'has disregarded or modified unambiguous contract provisions or based on award upon his own personal notions of right and wrong.'" Choice Hotels, 519 F.3d 200, 207 (4th Cir. 2008) (quoting DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 528); see also Upshur Coals Corp. v. United Mine Workers of Am., Dist. 31, 933 F.2d 225, 230 (4th Cir. 1991) (explaining that an arbitrator's award does not fail to draw its essence from the contract where it provides a "plausible reading[] of the agreement"). Plaintiff has presented no evidence that the arbitrator: (1) failed to discuss critical terminology; (2) disregarded or modified unambiguous contract provisions; or (3) applied his own personal notions of right and wrong in issuing his award. Instead, Plaintiff argues that the arbitrator considered information outside of the March 25, 2009 contract in rendering his award. As discussed above, the consideration of evidence of agreements between the parties that were extrinsic to the written contract does not provide a basis for vacating the award.

6. Award Evidences Manifest Disregard of Law

The second common law ground for vacation is where "the award evidences a manifest disregard of the law." DataQuick, 492 F.3d at 527 (citing Patten, 441 F.3d at 234). Recent Supreme Court precedent has "inject[ed] uncertainty into the status of manifest disregard as [an independent] basis for vacatur." Wachovia, 671 F.3d at 480–83 (discussing the Supreme Court's decisions in Hall St. Assocs., L.L.C. v. Mattel, Inc., 552 U.S. 576 (2008), and Stolt-Nielsen S.A. v. AnimalFeeds Int'l Corp., 130 S. Ct. 1758 (U.S. 2010)). The Fourth Circuit has interpreted the Supreme Court's recent decisions "to mean that manifest disregard continues to exist either 'as an independent ground for review or as a judicial gloss on the enumerated grounds for vacatur set forth in 9 U.S.C. § 10,'" but it has not resolved which of the two approaches is correct. Id. at 483 (quoting Stolt-Nielsen, 130 S. Ct. at 1768 n.3). The Fourth Circuit has stated, however, that "[w]hether manifest disregard is a 'judicial gloss' or an independent ground for vacatur, it is not an invitation to review the merits of the underlying arbitration." Id. (citing United Paperworkers Int'l Union v. Misco, Inc., 484 U.S. 29, 38 (1987)). Accordingly, the Court endorsed continued application of a "two-part test which has for decades guaranteed that review for manifest disregard not grow into the kind of probing merits review that would undermine the efficiency of arbitration." Id. Under that test, in order to vacate an award for manifest disregard, the moving party must show that: (1) "'the applicable legal principle is clearly defined and not subject to reasonable debate'"; and (2) "'the arbitrator[] refused to heed that legal principle.'" Id. (quoting Long John Silver's Restaurants, Inc. v. Cole, 514 F.3d 345, 349 (4th Cir. 2008)).

Plaintiff argues, unencumbered by factual support or legal authority, that the arbitrator entered an award that violates the "four corners doctrine" and the Statute of Frauds. See Pl.'s Am. Mem. in Supp. Vacation 6; Pl.'s Am. Mot. ¶ 47. This is best construed as an argument that the arbitrator's award evidences a manifest disregard of the law. Under the two-part test stated above, Plaintiff has provided no evidence that demonstrates that the arbitrator refused to heed applicable legal principles. Instead, Plaintiff's arguments are entirely conclusory, and with regard to the Statute of Frauds, fail even to elaborate on which aspect of the Statute of Frauds allegedly has been violated. See, e.g., Pl.'s Am. Mem. in Supp. Vacation 6 ("The arbitrator abused his discretion by entering an award which violates the Statute of Frauds."); see also Aikens v. Ingram, 652 F.3d 496, 506 (4th Cir. 2011) ("'[I]t is not the Court's place to try to make arguments for represented parties.'" (quoting Vazquez v. Cent. States Joint Bd., 547 F. Supp. 2d 833, 861 (N.D. Ill. 2008))). Moreover, the four corners doctrine relates to interpretation of terms within a contract. See Tryon v. AgriNova Corp., Inc., No. WGC-09-329, 2011 WL 332415, at *15 (D. Md. Jan. 31, 2011) ("'If the language of a contract is unambiguous, [the court] give[s] effect to its plain meaning and do[es] not contemplate what the parties may have subjectively intended by certain terms at the time of formation.' In other words, a court looks to the four corners of the contract." (alterations in original) (quoting Cochran v. Norkunas, 919 A.2d 700, 709 (Md. 2007))). Plaintiff does not challenge the arbitrator's interpretation of the March 25, 2009 contract, or allege that the arbitrator looked outside of the four corners of that contract to give meaning to certain terms therein. Rather, Plaintiff challenges the arbitrator's determination that other enforceable agreements existed between the parties, and his decision to award damages based on those agreements. Accordingly, the four corners doctrine is not applicable here, and Plaintiff cannot establish that the arbitrator's award should be vacated for manifest disregard.

As explained at length above, Plaintiff has failed to establish any of the six statutory or common law grounds for vacating an arbitration award. Accordingly, Plaintiff's Amended Motion to Vacate the March 29, 2011 Arbitration Award is hereby DENIED.

B. Modification or Correction

The Federal Arbitration Act provides three instances were modification or correction is permitted: (1) where "there was an evident material miscalculation of figures or an evident material mistake in the description of any person, thing, or property referred to in the award"; (2) where "the arbitrators have awarded upon a matter not submitted to them, unless it is a matter not affecting the merits of the decision upon the matter submitted"; and (3) where "the award is imperfect in matter of form not affecting the merits of the controversy." 9 U.S.C. § 11. Plaintiff's arguments in support of modification or correction almost entirely mirror the arguments presented in support of vacation. Accordingly, I do not restate them here.

1. Evident Material Miscalculation or Mistake

A court may modify or correct an arbitration award where the award contains some "evident material miscalculation of figures or an evident material mistake in . . . description." 9 U.S.C. § 11(a). Courts generally have held that "even a mistake of fact or misinterpretation of law by an arbitrator provides insufficient grounds for modification of an award." Apex Plumbing, 142 F.3d at 194. Indeed, "[w]here no mathematical error appears on the face of the award," the award will not be altered. Id. (citation and internal quotation marks omitted). Plaintiff points to no section of the arbitrator's award that contains mathematical errors or an incorrect description of any person, thing, or property referenced therein. Plaintiff has identified no material descriptive mistake or mathematical miscalculation that "appear[s] on the face of the arbitration award." Id. Accordingly, Plaintiff has not met its burden under § 11(a) and that section does not provide a basis for modification or correction of the award.

2. Award Upon a Matter Not Submitted

An arbitration award may be modified or corrected where the arbitrator has "awarded upon a matter not submitted to [him], unless it is a matter not affecting the merits of the decision upon the matter submitted." 9 U.S.C. § 11(b). The record before me contains no evidence that the arbitrator ruled on a matter not submitted to him. Indeed, pursuant to the arbitration provision in the parties' March 25, 2009 contract, the arbitrator had nearly unlimited authority to rule on any dispute arising between the parties with regard to Plaintiff's completion of construction work on Defendants' property. See supra. Without evidence that the arbitrator awarded damages for matters unrelated to the construction arrangement between the parties, § 11(b) does not provide a basis for modifying or correcting the arbitrator's award.

3. Imperfect Award in Matter of Form

Finally, a court may modify or correct an arbitration award where "the award is imperfect in matter of form not affecting the merits of the controversy." 9 U.S.C. § 11(c). Plaintiff does not advance any theory under which the award may be considered imperfect in form and, as such, has not met its burden under § 11(c). As explained above, Plaintiff has presented no legitimate basis for modifying or correcting the arbitrator's award. Accordingly, Plaintiff's Amended Motion to Modify or Correct the arbitration award is hereby DENIED.

III. CONCLUSION

For the reasons explained above, Plaintiff's Amended Motion to Modify, Vacate, or in the Alternative, Correct an Arbitration Award is DENIED. Consequently, Defendants' Motion to Enforce is GRANTED. Plaintiff is DIRECTED to provide the full amount awarded in the March 29, 2011 arbitration award to Plaintiffs within sixty (60) days of this Order.

Dated: August 6, 2012

_____ /S/_____
Paul W. Grimm
United States Magistrate Judge

hlw

: 101 2

CIRCUIT COURT FOR CARROLL COUNTY
Donald B. Sealing II
Clerk of the Circuit Court
Court House Annex
55 North Court Street
Westminster, MD 21157-5155
(888)-786-0039, TTY for Deaf: (410)-848-4063

W R I T O F S U M M O N S

Case Number: 06-C-11-059017

C I V I L

Gregory Rhines, et al vs Trademark Remodeling Inc

STATE OF MARYLAND, CARROLL COUNTY, TO WIT:

To: Trademark Remodeling Inc

P O Box 1285
Sykesville, MD 21784

You are hereby summoned to file a written response by pleading or motion, within 30 days after service of this summons upon you, in this Court, to the attached Complaint filed by:

Gregory Rhines

WITNESS the Honorable Chief Judge of the Fifth Judicial Circuit of Maryland.

Date Issued: 05/03/11

Donald B. Sealing

Donald B. Sealing II
Clerk of the Circuit Court

CIRCUIT COURT FOR CARROLL COUNTY, MARYLAND

To the person summoned:

FAILURE TO FILE A RESPONSE WITHIN THE TIME ALLOWED MAY RESULT IN A JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT TO THE GRANTING OF THE RELIEF SOUGHT AGAINST YOU.

Personal attendance in court on the day named is NOT required.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR CARROLL COUNTY
Clerk of the Circuit Court,
Donald B. Sealing II
Court House Annex
55 North Court Street
Westminster, MD 21157-5155

Received From: Sharon Rhines

06-C-11-059017

Civil Clerk - new filing fee $80.00 CK 3822	$80.00
Maryland Legal Sevices Corp CK 3822	$55.00
Sub Total	$135.00

----MOP----------	AMOUNT----
CK	$135.00
TOTAL TENDERED	$135.00
CASH RECEIVED	$0.00
CASH DUE	$0.00
CHANGE	$0.00

Receipt #201100002737
Cashier: AN CCCLX01
05/02/11 12:20pm

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE DISTRICT OF MARYLAND
(Northern Division)

Trademark Remodeling, Inc.

Plaintiff

v. Civil Action No.: PWG-11-1733

Greg Rhines and Sharon Rhines

Defendants

* * * * * * * * * * * *

FINAL RESPONSE TO PETITIONER'S OPPOSITION TO MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANTS' RESPONSE IN OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFF'S "AMENDED PETITION (MOTION) TO MODIFY, VACATE OR IN THE ALTERNATIVE, CORRECT AN ARBITRATION AWARD"

Greg Rhines and Sharon Rhines, the defendants, in representation of themselves "pro se", pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Local Rule 105, and this Court's Memorandum and Order dated August 24, 2011, hereby files this Response to the Petitioner's Opposition Answer to Memorandum in support of their response in opposition to the "Amended Petition (Motion) to Modify, Vacate or in the Alternative, Correct an Arbitration Award" (the "Amended Motion"), filed by Trademark Remodeling, Inc., the plaintiff. This Memorandum is submitted in addition to, but does not supersede, all previous submissions including the Memorandum originally filed by our former counsel, E. Pete Summerfield, on October 20, 2011.

I have reviewed all of the affidavits provided by the Petitioners and am awestruck by the continued falsehoods and inaccuracies they provide under oath. I will respond to a few which bear a hint of relevance to this case later but must first point out the fact that the Plaintiff has yet to provide any evidence which meets a qualification for vacating or amending a binding arbitration award.

All of the Plaintiff's contracts, which have been provided in previous submitted exhibits, read as follows:

Dispute: In the event of a dispute between the Client(s) and the Contractor, both parties agree to submit the issue to binding arbitration in accordance with the construction industry rules of the American Arbitration Association. Arbitration must take place at the location from where the dispute arose. The arbitration should be settled within (60) days of the dispute. Both parties agree to comply with all decisions and ruling of the arbitration.

To successfully modify, vacate or amend a binding arbitration award, the Petitioner must meet one of the standards listed in Sections 10 or 11 of the Federal Arbitration Act. In the Petitioner's lengthy affidavits, they offer absolutely no evidence which remotely attempts to meet any of those standards; rather, they attempt to take "another bite of the apple" to re-arbitrate the case before the US District Court. Moreover, they must prove that they meet one of those standards. The Petitioner and his counsel have made numerous allegations, most of which I have proven to be false with the exhibits I provided with my previous Memo, however, they have not provided any quantifiable proof that meets any of the standards provided in the Federal Arbitration Act.

The Fourth Circuit has made clear that "Federal courts must give 'great deference' to an arbitration award. As long as the arbitrator is even arguably construing or applying the contract, a court may not vacate the arbitrator's judgment" Choice Hotels Int'l., Inc., 491 F.3d at 177.

In reference to the affidavits submitted by the Petitioner and his former attorney, I offer the following:

1. The March 23, 2009 contract was clearly shown in Exhibit 1 (submitted with my 6/18/2012 Memo) to be devoid of several important items that were included in the appraisal and in the drawings. The Petitioner clearly knew that this contract was incomplete and was being used to fulfill a lender requirement.
2. In both Eric Swanson and Todd Swanson's affidavits, they state that all contracts subsequent to the March 23, 2009 contract were "proposals submitted for a change of scope but were not agreed upon and were discarded". These statements are ridiculous and totally false. Common sense would dictate that, if there was a "meeting of the minds" on the March 23rd contract and that "all parties were agreeable" with its terms as they allege, there would be no reason for the Contractor to willingly decrease the contract amount from $680,000 as stated in the March 23rd contract to $615,297 as provided in the August 26th contract while adding balcony construction, a pool patio, among other items. Common sense also questions why I would ever refuse the lower August 26th contract with the additional construction services to be performed in preference of the March 23rd contract. No prudent person would do that! Furthermore, the Retainer Agreement in my previous Exhibit 2, which was prepared by the Petitioner, would not refer to the July 15th proposal rather than the March 23rd contract if they felt the March 23rd contract was legal and agreeable by all parties. Finally, I proved in Exhibit 6 (and could provide numerous other email exhibits, if necessary) where the Petitioner provides credits which include items that were never included in the March 23rd contract. This clearly proves that all parties knew that the August 26th contract was not only legally binding but was used to construct our Pool House.

3. In all of the affidavits, the Petitioners and their prior counsel falsely state that I testified in the Arbitration that I didn't sign the August 26th contract and, when asked why, I offered a response that "it must have slipped my mind". This is absurd and untrue. In Exhibit 5, I provided an email exchange between Eric Swanson and myself where we agreed to meet at my house at 8:45 on Monday, August 31, 2009, to sign the August 26th contract. This email exchange occurred on Friday, August 28, 2009. It is inconceivable that it would "slip my mind" to be present a couple days later for the signing of a $615,297 contract to build a Pool House addition that we had been working on for nearly two years! As I testified in my previous Memo, the August 26th contract was signed on the morning of August 31, 2009, as agreed, and Eric Swanson never provided us with a copy of the contract. The fact that Mr. Swanson has conveniently failed to produce this signed contract does not alter the clear history of what happened nor does it subject it to the Statute of Frauds, as suggested by John Weiss.
4. In item #8 of John Weiss's affidavit, he refers to water damage experienced in the basement of our Pool House. He states that "experts of both parties and other trade witnesses testified that the water damage was due solely to the lack of a retaining wall at the back side of the pool house." This is not only another falsehood given under oath by Mr. Weiss but has been proven to be inaccurate in practice as well.
   Only Trademark's expert witness suggested that the absence of a retaining wall was solely to blame for our extensive water damage. Our expert witness testified that there were structural defects in the construction at the corner of the rear wall, which was responsible for all of the damage. He argued that a retaining wall would "make it easier to mow the lawn but would have little effect on the amount of water in the basement". Well, subsequent to the end of arbitration, I decided to try the retaining wall recommendation as my expert witness's recommendation for repair was going to be significantly more expensive. I had a retaining wall installed at the recommended location and continue to have floods in my basement to this day. Their expert witness was wrong and I am now looking at a prohibitively expensive solution to the faulty construction of the foundation of my Pool House.
   In addition, John Weiss purports that "uncontroverted testimony during the Arbitration established that erecting of the retaining wall was a contractual extra to be paid for by the homeowner and that Greg Rhines refused to authorize the work despite being warned verbally and in writing by Trademark representatives that water damage could result from not building the retaining wall." Once again, Mr. Weiss is attempting to rewrite history. The only testimony that the retaining wall was a contractual extra was given by Mr. Swanson. We showed the Arbitrator that the retaining wall was clearly included in the final blueprints for our home, provided by Trademark Remodeling. When Mr. Swanson gave me a "change order" to construct the retaining wall in the Spring of 2010, I refused to incur the additional charge as we had verbally agreed that it was part of the contract as shown in the blueprints for the building. The fact that he forgot to include it in the written contract did not supersede our prior agreement. By that time, my relationship with Mr. Swanson had gotten quite adversarial and he responded that he refused to construct it without additional payment. He then assured me that he would have the lawn graded in such a way that, while the hill would be steep, it wouldn't cause me any water problems in my Pool House. Furthermore, Trademark provides a 5-Year Warranty on workmanship (page 16 of their contract), which would cover the damages we've incurred. Based upon all of this testimony and evidence at the Arbitration, David Stapler included those damages in his award. Unfortunately for us, it is now clear that those damage awards are going to be inadequate to cover our actual damages.

5. Testimony in all three affidavits that they were unable to adequately cross-examine my witnesses is categorically false. While it is true that neither of my witnesses were able to physically attend the arbitration hearing, they both made themselves available by speaker phone at the hearing where all parties were present. They were examined by my attorney and then fully cross-examined by the Petitioner's attorney, John Weiss, via speaker phone in the conference room. Both of my witnesses remained on the phone until all questions were answered and they were released by the arbitrator. As I mentioned in my previous Memo, my expert witness had to disconnect from the phone to be rushed to the hospital in the midst of their expert witness's testimony so we were never able to utilize him to cross-examine their expert witness. We were the only parties harmed by our witness's absence during the arbitration. Any testimony provided otherwise is absolutely false.
6. In Eric Swanson's affidavit, item #11, he fabricates the entire story. He apparently thinks that, by providing a lot of details, it makes his story more credible. Unfortunately, his details are totally untrue. The backup copy of Quickbooks was dated April 5, 2010 rather than March, as stated by Mr. Swanson. I had all bookkeeping details regarding my Pool House project through that date, which was shortly before he walked off the job. At arbitration, I had Job Cost reports which detailed all of his transactions from the start through April 5, 2010, contrary to the February 2010 date stated by Mr. Swanson. These reports are in front of me as I type this Memo and they are date stamped November 17, 2010 at 2:32PM, not the 1:04AM, March 2, 2011 date invented by Mr. Swanson. During the arbitration, my attorney stated that he had a Job Cost Report for our project and was going to ask a question of Mr. Swanson when his attorney and Mr. Swanson furiously objected to the introduction of such evidence. The attorneys had a sidebar regarding the inclusion of this evidence as well as any questions regarding these reports and it was determined by the Arbitrator that he would not allow it. Mr. Swanson's statements that he saw the Job Cost report, its date stamp, or any other financial information on the report is totally untrue. Any testimony by the Petitioner that statements were made during the arbitration that "tainted the atmosphere" is equally untrue. The more relevant question is why the Petitioner battled so furiously to exclude information contained in his own financial reports in the arbitration.

All of this testimony by both parties has been argued in the Arbitration on March 1-3, 2011. A binding arbitration award was given by Arbitrator David Stapler on March 29, 2011. While I believe I have provided adequate proof to the Court that our testimony has been truthful and accurate, I would be happy for this Honorable Court to contact Arbitrator David Stapler through the American Arbitration Association to corroborate our version of any discrepancies that you deem pertinent to your decision.

CONCLUSION:

In conclusion, we have clearly shown that all evidence and testimony related to the controversy surrounding the various construction contracts was provided at the Arbitration Hearing. After considering all of the evidence, the Arbitrator determined his legally-binding award finding in the amount of $83,408.25.

The Plaintiff has offered absolutely no new evidence or testimony in addition to that which was already heard by the Arbitrator. The Plaintiff has also clearly failed to meet any of the requirements of the Federal Arbitration Act, Title 9 of the US Code, Sections 10 and 11, as I itemized in my previous Memo.

We have suffered hardship in the form of attorney's fees exceeding $30,000 to defend ourselves against their repeated Petitions and Memos, which have been extremely redundant as nearly every line item is not only filled with untruths and inaccuracies but continually references the March 2009 contract. The subject of whether the March 2009 or August 2009 construction contract was the legal and enforceable one was paramount during the arbitration hearing and was thoroughly argued by both sides and the Arbitrator concluded that the August 2009 contract was the only contract that was not only signed by both parties, but was also utilized in the construction of our Pool House, and in which there was a meeting of the minds. To subject us to further damages via attorney fees or other costs when there has been no new evidence provided or any reasonable attempt to meet any requirement of the Federal Arbitration Act to vacate or modify the award is extremely unjust.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons set forth above, we respectfully request the Court deny the plaintiff's "Amended Petition (Motion) to Modify, Vacate or in the Alternative, Correct an Arbitration Award." We also request the Court enforce the legally-binding arbitration award in the amount of $83,408.25. In addition, we request reimbursement of attorney's fees in the amount of thirty-thousand dollars ($30,000.00) and the maximum post-judgment interest allowed from the date of the arbitration award (March 29, 2011).

We solemnly swear that the above facts are true to the best of our knowledge, information and belief.

Gregory M. Rhines, Defendant

Sharon L. Rhines, Defendant

61 Waterview Road
Hanover, PA 17331

CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE

I HEREBY CERTIFY that on this 19th day of July, 2012, a copy of the foregoing was mailed by certified mail, return receipt, to:

Kathryn Freed-Collier, Esquire
Law Offices of Kathryn Freed-Collier
The Clyfford Still House
P.O. Box 111
312 Church Street
New Windsor, MD 21776
Attorney for Defendant

Greg Rhines